22nd November 2018

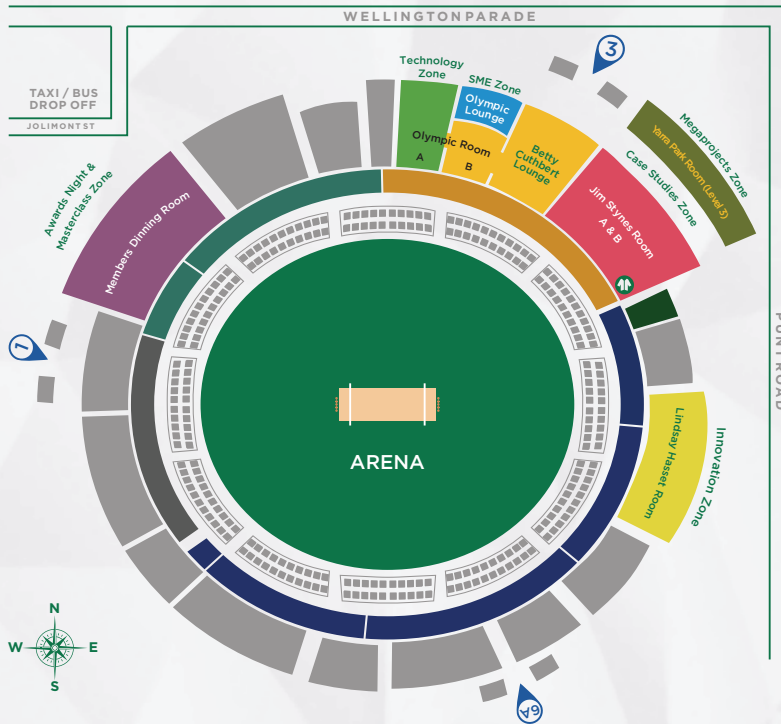

Following 8 years of successful delivery of Project Controls Expo in the UK, we had our inaugural event in Melbourne at “the G” in November 2018.

Project Controls Expo Australia exceeded expectations with over 600 delegates attending despite being the first event of its type in this region. Another major step towards professionalising project controls and bringing the project controls community to share its benefits for effective project delivery. The event commenced with an amazing didgeridoo performance.

30+ outstanding speakers within 4 distinct presentation zones, along with a workshop zone, partner showcase and a project controls job fair.

Expo 2018 was supported and sponsored by 50+ Partners representing a wide range of industries; oil and gas , rail, infrastructure, construction to name a few. It also had support from Government and professional bodies, such as, Department of Infrastructure Regional Development and Cities, EY, ACES, AACE, AICD, IACCM, PMI Melbourne.

2018 feedback

"Last week I attended the Project Controls Expo, Australia, with my team. The event was full of cutting-edge advancement presentations and demonstrations in the world of project planning and control empowered with AI, Data Science and machine learning"

"Highly recommend for all project controls professionals and the businesses we work for"

"It was a real pleasure to attend and present at the project controls expo in Melbourne yesterday. The best part of it was to catch-up with old friends and make some new ones! The presentations and workshops also rocked"

"Spectacular event to drive the importance of project controls in Australia. It's high time we let "DATA" and performance measures do the talking and forecasts rather than "ego driven" forecasts mired with biases on large capital projects"
